

Learning Log – Week 3 - 04.05.2020

Focus – Heroes and Villains
Research – Famous scientist As our topic is heroes and villains, I would you like to find out some more information about a famous scientist who has changed the world for better. Examples of who these could be are: Marie Curie, Albert Einstein or Stephen Hawking but the possibilities are endless! Find out what they did to become famous and how their discoveries changed the world. Present your findings in an interesting way: a poster, mind map, PowerPoint or make a book!	Research – Newspaper report Imagine that you have performed a heroic act. Your name and picture have appeared in local and national newspapers. What heroic act did you perform? What happened and who was involved? Tell the story of your heroic deed in a recount or newspaper report. Remember to include the typical features of this type of writing.	Create – Everyday heroes Collect stories from newspapers, magazines and the Internet about everyday heroes, and make a clippings board. Heroic acts might include saving people or animals from danger, fighting fires or donating organs to help another person.
Every week we expect that you: Read 3 times a week – Reading Books will be allocated on Bug Club and changed weekly. Practice your spellings – go on to Spelling Shed as these will change weekly Practice your Times Tables on Times Tables Rock Stars
